Plateau Press Emerges

Local Printing Business Celebrating Eight Years, This Month

Plateau Press -- specialty printing and design -- may sound new but actually has some familiar faces. Phyllis Shovelski has been known in the region for some time as the face of a franchised printing business on Clearwater. Her capable and friendly print-shop team now have new phone numbers, web presence and emails. The new look marks a separation from the franchise and is celebrating eight years of capable and dedicated service to the region.

“For us the method has always been to provide a timely, reasonable value,” says Michael Duffy, her husband and partner in the business. “Printing today is constantly changing. So are many of the businesses of our customers. We need to provide traditional ink on paper products as well as a myriad of specialty items upon which we might customize imprints.”

Plateau Press provides business branding services or can partner with a customer’s designer to help create the notepads, pens, letterhead, envelopes and hundreds of other possible products that people use everyday to help keep their business name, or event, out front. Phyllis runs the shop and can consult on options that will tastefully bring out an integrated, attractive image.

Plateau Press is located behind the O’Reilly Auto Parts on Clearwater; 7201 W Clearwater, B-103; 509.491.3801. info@plateau-press.com. www.plateau-press.com
